DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 6-12, drawn to a method for marking a liquid comprising a first marker, classified in class 436, subclass 139.
 - II. Claims 12-25 and 51-61 drawn to a liquid marker and method for marking a liquid comprising a first and second marker that is a molecular marker, classified in class 436, subclass 56.
 - III. Claims 26-28, drawn to a method for marking a liquid comprising a first and second marker artificially enhanced by deuterium atom, classified in class 73, subclass 61.41.
 - IV. Claims 29-50, drawn to a method for determining if samples of a liquid have been adulterated, classified in class 73, subclass 64.43.
 - V. Claims 62-68, drawn to a method of testing authenticity of a plurality of samples comprising testing for the first and second marker, classified in class 436, subclass 171.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II/III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and

Art Unit: 1743

(2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the test does not require a second marker. The subcombination has separate utility such as testing for a different compound.

The examiner has required restriction between combination and subcombination inventions. Where applicant elects a subcombination, and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

3. Inventions II are III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination III with deuterium enhanced markers has separate utility such as testing for different compounds. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

The examiner has required restriction between subcombinations usable together. Where applicant elects a subcombination and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

4. Inventions I-III and IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different designs, modes of operation, and effects (MPEP § 802.01 and § 806.06). In the instant case, the different inventions have different modes of operation as inventions I-III can be used to test for things other than adulteration.

5. Inventions V and I-IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different designs, modes of operation, and effects (MPEP § 802.01 and § 806.06). In the instant case, the different inventions have different designs as Group V can be used with markers that have a different molar absorptivity than Groups I-IV.
